MR. AND MRS. JACOB LUTHER AULL

CELEBRATE THEIR SIXTIETH MARRIAGE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. Jacob Luther Aull and Miss Julia Ann Haltiwanger were married on Thursday, May 22, 1856, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Haltiwanger home near Trinity Lutheran church in what was then Edgefield county. Since that evening they have trod life's pathway together enjoying its pleasures and sharing its sorrows. The old home at Trinity church now in Saluda county still stands though the property has passed into other hands. Miss Julia Haltiwanger the bride of 60 years ago is the daughter of the late Jacob Haltiwanger and the groom is the son of the Rev. Herman Aull of Newberry county. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Luther Aull is now in Greenwood county, formerly Edgefield county to which place they moved from Newberry county in the year 1872. The old home in Newberry of the Aulls is still in the family being now in the possession of Elbert Herman Aull. It stands near Jolly Street and the house erected by the Rev. Herman Aull away back in the thirties still stands.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Aull are now with their son, Rev. W. B. Aull, in Wall-halla, being there on a visit at this time. They still maintain their home in Greenwood.

Their history has been a remarkable one in many respects. During all these sixty years that they have trod life's pathway together there has been only one death in their immediate family, that of a little son away back about 1860.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. P. Margart who was then the pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church in Newberry county. He has long since passed to his reward. The bridesmaids were Christine Witt, a niece of the groom and Emma Haltiwanger, a sister of the bride. The groomsmen were Mike H. Witt, a nephew of the groom, and Isaiah Haltiwanger, a brother of the bride. They have all passed to the happy hunting grounds of the great beyond.

The next day after the wedding the bridal party journeyed by buggy and carriage to the home of the groom in Newberry county and on Sunday following there was a dinner for the home folks and a few invited friends. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hunter and Mr. Os Wells of Newberry. It is probable that Mr. Wells is the only one living who was present at that dinner outside of the bride and groom. It is possible that Mrs. Kate Monts of Little Mountain was there.

Mr. and Mrs. Aull have six living children as follows: Mrs. W. W. Daniel, wife of President Daniel of Columbia college; Prof. Nathan E. Aull, of Estil, superintendent of the public school at that place; Mrs. A. D. Timmerman, wife of Mr. A. D. Timmerman of Greenwood county; Rev. W. B. Aull, pastor of the Lutheran church of Wall-halla; Mr. Luther Bachman Aull of Greenwood county, a farmer and rural letter carrier; and Elbert Herman Aull, editor of The Herald and News.

Mr. and Mrs. Aull have many friends and relatives in this county, the native county of Mr. Aull, and where they lived for many years, who will no doubt be pleased to know that despite their advanced years, they are still young and in good health and very active. It is our hope that they may live to celebrate many more wedding anniversaries.

Miss Ervin Honored.

Miss Lois Ervin, home demonstration agent for Spartanburg county under the office of the State's relation service, has been accorded a singular honor by having been chosen from among all agents in the entire Southern States to represent the home demonstration work at the home economics conference held under the auspices of the General Federation of Women's clubs at the Hotel Astor, in New York, Friday, May 26, continuing through Wednesday, May 31. Miss Ervin is the only representative in the entire South selected by the department of home economics of the United States department of agriculture to represent this work.—The State.

Miss Ervin was a teacher in Newberry county a few years ago and has many friends who will be pleased to know of her success. She was a good teacher, and took hold of things like she meant to do them and that is what brings success.

Another encouraging feature of the situation is that there don't seem to be nearly as many American girls as usual marrying counts.—The State.

Miss Williams' Lecture on Birds.

Last Thursday afternoon Miss Belle Williams of Columbia, State secretary of the Audubon society, gave a very entertaining and instructive lecture at the high school auditorium on the subject of birds. She used a great many stereopticon views to illustrate birds in nature, and to show their economic and aesthetic value.

The children and pupils of the Audubon society and the Bird club members were especially interested in the great fund of information that the lecture brought them on the question of birds.

After the lecture Miss Williams with a company of friends who were interested in the movement to put Newberry first among the cities in the South in the protection and preservation of birds visited the Audubon exhibit at the Boundary street school and the proposed Bird Sanctuaries in the Johnstone woods and out at Mrs. Workman's. Miss Williams said that Newberry would probably have the distinction of having established the first bird sanctuary in the South. She was profuse in her praise of the attitude she found with reference to the care of birds.

OLD FOLKS DAY WAS OBSERVED AT PROSPERITY

Largest Crowd in History of Occasion—Gov. Manning Makes Address—Dinner Served on Ground.

Old Folks day at Prosperity is getting to be an annual feature occasion long with the Little Mountain College reunion and Memorial Day (May 30th) in Newberry.

Several years ago the Sunday school of Grace Lutheran church conceived the idea of setting aside one day for the old people to get together in a festive spirit and give the younger folks an opportunity to serve them and help to fill their cup of gladness.

These annual gatherings have grown with the passing years until the church with an unusually large seating capacity is no longer large enough to hold all of the visitors. There must have been at least a thousand people in the church and on the grounds last Sunday. There were present a large number of old people whose years are pressing heavily upon their stooping shoulders. The oldest man present was Mr. Jacob Shealy, who is 97 years of age.

The exercises consisted of old familiar hymns, two addresses, one by the pastor, Rev. E. W. Leslie, and one by Gov. Manning and dinner in the grove in front of the church. Gov. Manning was to have made his address Sunday morning but failed to catch his train. The program was, therefore, transposed. Rev. Leslie making the morning address and Gov. Manning the afternoon address. At the close of Gov. Manning's address the meeting was dismissed after the singing of the old hymn "Blest be the tie that binds."

Rev. E. W. Leslie said in part: Many old people think they have no mission in life when they get old, that their work is completed; but they have the greatest work of all by testifying to the services they have rendered. As experience is the best teacher their experience in life is the best testimony that they can give. So many people, when they get old think they are in the way. There should never be such a feeling as they can render such valuable services in advice taken from experience. You can serve the Lord by testifying to his goodness and mercy of which we are all witnesses. This testimony will accomplish more than anything else. Some of our younger people will say that you do not know what you are talking about, but if the grace of God and nothing but the grace of God has sustained us, we can testify to that. "There are many other things that you can testify to," said the speaker, and went on to amplify. He made a touching and appealing address and closed by saying: "Thus we see that there is just as high a mission in old age as in youth. May God bless you and sanctify your old age in the service that is so valuable."

Gov. Manning said that in coming to this church on this occasion it was a privilege and an honor. He said he had not prepared a set speech for lack of time on account of having attended the North Carolina festivities incident to the Mecklenburg celebration. He spoke of the tender memories of father and mother and of the changes that have taken place during the life time of the old people present. One of the changes was the manner of home life. In the old days the family would gather at night in the home circle and read and devote themselves to prayer and religious instructions but in these days the Christian home presented a different scene—the members of the family spent the evenings attending missionary meetings, welfare and charitable societies, etc. The speaker closed by stressing the importance of the Christian home as being the great defense and protection and bulwark of the great American nation.

Meeting of Rural Carriers.

The annual meeting of the Rural Letter Carriers association of Newberry will be held in the court house May 30, at 11:30 a. m. We want all the carriers and substitutes to be present.

W. G. Peterson,
Secretary.

Old Folks Day Largely Attended—Governor's Address Enjoyed—Good Dinner—Personal.

Prosperity, May 22.—Yesterday was the banner day of all past "Old Folks Day," and the largest crowd ever gathered at Grace church was present here yesterday. Long before the appointed hour the church was crowded and many were unable to gain admission. Gov. Manning who had been selected as the orator of the occasion was unable to get here in time for the morning service, so a well selected song service was rendered, and Rev. Leslie in his happy manner made a most excellent talk.

Gov. Manning was introduced by Prof. E. O. Counts who made a few short and appropriate remarks. The governor's speech was unusually good, carrying the old folks back to days long ago and causing many recollections to the old folks of events occurred during childhood.

SUPT. ERNEST ANDERSON GOES TO NORTH AUGUSTA

Superintendent Ernest Anderson has just closed a two years contract with the schools of North Augusta. Mr. Anderson came from North Augusta to Newberry and returns at an increase in salary as superintendent. This is a high compliment to Mr. Anderson from the people who know him and whom he has served.

Mr. Anderson since it became known that he would not remain in Newberry has had several very flattering offers in the school field. His former splendid success at North Augusta, the loyal support of the people and the decided desirability of North Augusta a place to live are given as determining points in Mr. Anderson reaching a decision.

It is known that Mr. Anderson has been considering for more than two months the presidency of the Southern Female college at La Grange, Ga. (This is the second oldest college in America and has a strong and loyal clientele in western Georgia and Alabama.

SWITCHING THE BELT TO THE TIGHT PULLEY

Judge Player switched the belt on to the tight pulley one day last week and wove a net of justice around the following doers of evil: Dave Johnson, Olie Jackson, Isalah Hair, Nin Lake, Forest Downing, Burr Rodgers, found guilty of breach of the peace. The total fines imposed amounted to $140.00 or 140 days. The fines were paid in dollars as the days are getting too long to work.

Of the above mentioned parties Dave Johnson, Olie Jackson, Isalah Hair and Nin Lake were found guilty of carrying concealed weapons and were fined a total of $80.00 or 120 days. The fines were paid in money.

A bunch of disturbers of religious worship consisting of Charley Gilliam, Calvin Gilliam and James Gilliam were given the choice of paying $80.00 or serving 120 days. They paid the dollars.

The grand total of all these cases in the magistrate's court amounted to $180.00 or 350 days work. The fines imposed were the minimum allowed by the law in each case.

Miss Rebecca Mahon.

The Herald and News is indebted to the "Staten Islander," a New York paper, for the account of "Second Venus," a musical comedy in which Miss Rebecca Mahon, a former Newberrian, plays a leading role. Miss Mahon featured as Minnie from Minnesota, a Swede maid of all work was the key to a great portion of fun and merriment.

Although a maid she stands a chance of heiring $50,000 if her uncle dies (which he refuses to do). Her two lovers are determined to marry her upon learning that she has saved $200. With her long drawnout Swedish accent she thanks them both and marries a life saver.
